Rekindling Your Hope

Living with New Passion, Giftedness and Purpose!

Paul F. Singh, M.A., L.P.

Psychologist, Pastor

A psychologist, author, husband, and father of five, cancer survivor Paul F. Singh has a teaching style and perspective seasoned with a rare blend of clinical insight, spiritual depth and personal experience. His interactive lectures are free and open to all. Come and be refreshed by Paul's perspective in moving forward on this brief journey he calls life!

Lectures will be two hours in length. The first hour is designated for the presentation, and the following hour to discussion.

LECTURE 1 — March 21, 2007

Talking to Your Children and Loved Ones About Your Cancer Diagnosis

Singh will offer new tools to help you talk with your children and loved ones about the difficult topic of your cancer diagnosis, including treatment and the recovery process. He will candidly share the story of his journey through this process with his wife and children. Singh will also discuss how to bring a sense of stability and security to your children and loved ones through your medical process.

Due to a generous donation, this lecture series — designed to bring hope and new tools to those in the cancer community — is offered free from the Mayo Clinic Cancer Education Program.

LECTURE 2 — April 18, 2007

Learning to Passionately Live After Cancer Treatment

Singh will share how he overcame his process and painted a fresh picture of how to enjoy life again within the painful realities of your struggle with cancer. Receive new tips to help restore your sense of well-being physically, emotionally and spiritually. Learn how your “new normal” can release your passion, giftedness and purpose as you move through the healing process.

LECTURE 3 — May 23, 2007

Longing for Intimacy After Experiencing a Cancer Diagnosis

Candidly talking about the tender longings for intimacy (spiritual, relational and sexual), Singh will address the painful realities of feeling angry, disappointed and alone after a cancer diagnosis. Speaking from his background as a marriage therapist, he will equip you with practical tools to help you get back on the path to restoring your intimacy and sexuality. This is a great lecture for couples to attend.
