Patient Care

Shock wave therapy emerges as an effective treatment for musculoskeletal issues

Physical medicine and rehabilitation specialists are using extracorporeal shock wave therapy to treat an evolving list of musculoskeletal and neurological diagnoses.

Learn more
Guidelines make treating patients with myeloma more straightforward

If you've ever wondered what Mayo Clinic would do to treat patients who have multiple myeloma, guidelines called mSMART outline Mayo specialists' current treatment approach.

Learn more

---

Research

---

Pulmonary function laboratories' pandemic research improves patient and provider safety

Mayo Clinic pulmonary function laboratories' updated infection control practices in response to COVID-19 allowed needed testing services to reopen quickly and personal protective measures to be de-escalated safely.

Learn more
Single-highest signal obtained during atrial fibrillation more accurately identifies aortic stenosis

Research on the significance of high transvalvular gradients in atrial fibrillation low-gradient aortic stenosis indicates aortic stenosis severity is underestimated when the mean gradient is obtained during atrial fibrillation.

Learn more

See all Family Medicine and General Internal Medicine Clinical Trials at Mayo Clinic

Education

Mayo Clinic School of Continuous Professional Development offers live courses, livestreaming courses, online continuing medical education (CME) courses and podcasts to meet your CME needs. Medical education from Mayo Clinic experts is also available through GIBLIB, a new on-demand medical education library.

See all Family Medicine and Internal Medicine and Subspecialties Continuing Medical Education courses
RISE for Equity: Reflect, Inspire, Strengthen & Empower 2022
July 21-23, 2022
Chicago and Livestream

Join this national health care dialogue about diversity and health disparities, digital equity, and inclusion in workforce development and organizational culture. Explore evidence-based solutions and innovative initiatives.

Register Now

Care of the Older Adult 2022
Aug. 4-6, 2022
Minneapolis and Livestream

This program provides family practitioners, internists, general practitioners, advanced nurse practitioners and physician assistants with current information on the care of older adults, including clinical evaluation, management strategies and innovative practice models.

Register Now

COVID-19 Updates and Resources
Read more

Consults and Referrals

Phoenix/Scottsdale, Arizona
844-255-4442

Jacksonville, Florida
855-691-1265

Rochester, Minnesota